

Center for Independent Practice 2023 Symposium

Supported by Johnson & Johnson VISION

Optometry's
Meeting

Friday, June 23
10:30 a.m. - noon

Walter E. Washington
Convention Center

"The opportunity to be wildly successful in independent practice of optometry has never been greater. In this conversation, we'll understand specifics of today's independent practice opportunity, how it fits with career/life objectives and keys to making the very most of it."

Keynote Speaker

Tom Bowen

Founder and CEO

THRIVE Practice and Life Development

Topics:

- The State of Independent Practice
- The "Core 4" Quality of Life Contributors
- The 5 Keys to Thriving in Independent Practice
- The 5 Keys to Successful Practice Transition

Additional participants: Tom Bowen will moderate a conversation with leading independent practitioners

Audience: Optometry students, optometry school faculty, and doctors of optometry who are registered for Optometry's Meeting

Cost: Free (to meeting attendees)

RSVP: Required forms.office.com/r/rjqZ8YLG6i

Contact: Rodney Peele, Executive Director of the AOA Center for Independent Practice, at rpeele@aoa.org

DISCOVERY

COLLABORATION

OPPORTUNITY

The Symposium will include recognition of the foundational partner schools:

- Southern College of Optometry
- The Ohio State University College of Optometry
- Northeastern State University
- University of Pikeville Kentucky College of Optometry
- Oklahoma College of Optometry

RSVP for the Center for Independent
Practice
Symposium

CENTER FOR INDEPENDENT PRACTICE

aoa.org/practice/aoa-center-for-independent-practice